COOKIES POLICY

What is a cookie? -

A cookie is a small text file that a website stores on your PC, phone or any other device with information about your use of said website. Cookies are needed to facilitate browsing and make it more user-friendly and do not damage your computer. Although the general term cookie is used in this policy (because it is the main method used by this website to store information), “Local storage” space in the browser is also used for the same purposes as cookies. In this sense, all the information included in this section is also applicable to “Local storage”.

Why are cookies used on this website? -

Cookies are an essential component of our website. The main purpose of our cookies is to improve your browsing experience, e.g., to remember your preferences (language, country, etc.) while browsing and for future visits. The information collected in cookies also allows us to improve the website by estimating numbers and usage patterns, adapting the website to the user’s individual interests, accelerating searches, etc.

What are cookies NOT used for on this website?

We do not store sensitive personal information like your address, password, etc., in the cookies we use. Nor do we use cookies to direct advertising to our users based on their browsing or other advertising purposes, whether our own or those of third parties.

Who uses the information stored in cookies?

The information stored on our website’s cookies is used exclusively by us, with the exception of Google Analytics cookies (which are used and managed by us and by Google for statistical purposes) and the Analysis cookies for payment transactions (which are only generated when a purchase is made and analysed by an external company to provide adequate safeguards for payment transactions).

What specific cookies does this website use and for what purposes?

Below is a table with the cookies used by this website and the purpose of each one.

These cookies collect generic information about user access to the MONKEY NUTRIENTS website (but not about its content) to subsequently provide us with aggregated information on said access for statistical purposes.

Cookie Management -

As an additional guarantee to the aforementioned cookies, the registration of cookies may need to be accepted during the installation or update of the browser used; this acceptance may be revoked at any time through the available content and privacy setting options.

Many browsers permit the activation of a privacy mode through which cookies are always deleted after your visit. The name thereof depends on the privacy mode of each browser. Below, you will find a list of the most common browsers and the different names for their “privacy mode”:

- Internet Explorer 8 and higher; InPrivate
- Opera 10.5 and higher; Private Browsing
- Google Chrome 10 higher; Incognito
- Safari 2 and higher; Private Browsing
- FireFox 3.5 and higher; Private Browsing

Important -

Please carefully read your browser’s help section to learn more about how to activate “privacy mode”. You may continue visiting our website even if your browser is in “privacy mode”; however, browsing our website may not be optimal and some services may not function correctly.

How to disable cookies in the main browsers

It is usually possible to reject a browser’s Cookies or reject a particular Service’s Cookies.

All modern browsers allow changes to the Cookie settings. These settings are usually found in the “options” or “Preferences” sections in your browser’s menu. Additionally, you may configure your browser or your email system by installing free add-ons to avoid downloading Web Bugs when opening emails.

The Provider’s Website offers guidance to Users on the steps to access the Cookie’s configuration menu and, where appropriate, private browsing in each of the main browsers:

- Internet Explorer: Tools -> Internet Options -> Privacy -> Settings.
- Firefox: Tools -> Options -> Privacy -> History -> Personal Settings.
- Chrome: Settings -> Show advanced settings -> Privacy -> Content settings.
- Safari: Preferences -> Security.
